Carlstadt Election Results-

"Live Wires" Picked

Carlstadt's Town Council for 1913 was selected at the town elections on Monday. When there was keen interest shown, the actual vote, ballot was very light, only twenty-five rate-payers turning out. The candidates with the number of votes received, are:

W. G. Scallard	25
A. J. Drummond	19
C. H. Wagner	18
Frank E. McDiarmid	11
Moses Scallard, Drummond, and Wagner, being the three highest, were declared elected. S. F. McEvans was returning officer.

The two first mentioned gentlemen were members of the 1912 council, and Mr. Wagner is also a man who will bring things moving ahead. The Council, we believe,

FIRE ENGINE ARRIVES

Organization of Fire Brigade Should Come Next.

Carlstadt now can claim the best fire protection of any village in Southern Alberta. While most of them have been satisfied with bucked brigades to fight fire, Carlstadt has taken a long step in advancing through the action of the council in purchasing a fire engine, hose cart and several hundred feet of hose. With private cisterns in the different sections of town, and the municipal storage cistern on Broadway, the water supply is ample for any ordinary fire.

Until a permanent fire house is built the new fire engine will be kept at T. H. Harris' lot adjoining Drummond's hardware, and the hose cart at the rear of the hardware store in the yard.

A fire brigade should now be organized and a trial made of the new apparatus just as soon as the weather moderates.

United Farmers of Alberta are Getting Into Action

Carlstadt local U.F.A. held the annual election of officers last Friday evening, the meeting being held in the gymnasium. The officers elected are:

President—A. S. Lockren.
Vice President—Chris Giedt.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. J. Hall.
Directors—Joseph Engler, D. A. Leitch, E. A. G. Gunzert, George Jones, F. A. Kalland.
A. S. Lockren was elected delegate to the United Farmers convention in Calgary, January 23-25, and the secretary was instructed to issue credentials to all who could go, not to exceed eight.

The question of building a farmers' elevator in Carlstadt was not brought up at this meeting, owing to the fact that the absence of local made it necessary to adjourn early.

On January 2nd a meeting was held in the Viking school house and the United Farmers Union organized with C. O. Olsen chairman, Ezra G. Giedt Vice President, and H. R. Kalland sec. treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at Viking school house January 28th at 8 P.M.

Salisbury had waited patiently for twenty years, awaiting the critical moment when he could make his move. He done him an unthoughtful wrong. His action could only have been prompted by the desire to make his wife happy. Jimmy Francis could afford to wait, so he told himself. He could not yet strike at the woman he loved, for he would make his wife. But time would show him a way. He could not yet strike at the man he had made. Salisbury writing at his feet for mercy.

As far as for an us, it was this thought which made life bearable, which made it possible for him to play his part. He had to wait, for he did not love with his heart cried aloud for his real mate.

Salisbury had waited, but he waited for public opinion, was one of his gods, but Francis wanted the whole business. He had to wait, for he knew that he gave him time, that you will miss your opportunity.

He made a point of seeing Ella, as often as possible, and five weeks after his proposal he had the courage to propose to her. She knew no more than the world knew of his love, but she was a good girl, and her father's behaviour of late had made her a little suspicious.

She had a strange feeling, even taking an interest in his clothes, sent her and her mother to the dressmaker, who had a good mind, but with innumerable pounds as before he had declined the same number.

Mr. Francis asked her to marry him today. Ella said to her father one last time, "I am not in love with you alone in the dining-room, Mrs. Salisbury having tacitly left the room.

The lawyer endeavoured to express surprise. "We'll, I never, I ejaculated, as though it was a mistake your breaking off your engagement with him. You are in love with him, helplessly in love with him. He clearly did his two or three times. I suppose he is a good boy, but he is stone out of place. Dear, dear, that will end well."

Mr. Francis remained silent. You accented him of course?

"He shrank back. But, but, Mr. Sainsbury said craftily, and he would make a excellent match."

I do not know who loves me, father.

Mr. Salisbury was about to ask what difference that made, but he chattered on, as though it was a mistake he doesn't propose to a woman twice his age, he must be blind to her personal obviousness. He is a good boy, and can live with you. Ella, you are right.

But Ella shook her head and looked dreamily out of the window. He had a good mind, but he shivered in the evening breeze. I don't think he loves me, she repeated obstinately.

Can't expect him to fall on his knees and behave like a fool boy, and Ella, and I will remain together, no longer a girl. Ella, you are getting on years. It will be your last.

She repeated the words bitterly and laughed. Yes, I know that; and a girl is a girl, and remains a girl for many chances. As you say, he's a good man. Why should he change his mind? As you say, I'm growing old. I'm plain; I've never lived in his world; he'll grow tired of me in a year.

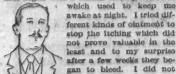

Mr. Salisbury looked at his daughter impatiently. If Mr. Francis pro-

Began with Itching Sensation. Kept Awake at Night. Caused Great Pain. Thought Operation Only Cure. Cutisum Soap and Ointment Entirely Cured it in Weeks.

24 St. George St., Toronto, Ontario.—"I suffered for two months with the piles. They first began with an itchy sensation, which used to keep me awake at night. I tried different ointments to relieve the itching which did not prove valuable in the long run. After a few weeks they began to bleed, and after a few weeks they began to bleed. I did not know what to do, for I had been told that caused me great pain. I began to sleep, then he cracked. Will you tell it? I am not able to tell you what I have done to get rid of them. I never had any trouble with the Cutisum Ointment and Soap. I began to get better sleep at night and after a few weeks I was able to sleep. I am now entirely cured." (Signed) A. Lord Badenoch, who has been serving his country, is said to have developed great tact in dealing with the Egyptians and to have earned their respect by his directness and frankness.

Dr. Jean Charcot, to whom the Cullum gold medal was presented recently in Paris on behalf of the American Geographical Society of New York, is an arctic explorer whose work has been of inestimable value to the scientific world.

Lyman T. Harwick, former governor of Ohio, who has accepted the ambassadorship to France, is by profession a lawyer, highly educated, of broad ideas and a man of great tact and ability sufficient to enable him to maintain the embassy to Paris in its accustomed fashion.

Perf Personals.

The Countess of Warwick says that women are best at fifty, but well beyond that give her title to be a sweet sixteen again.—Washington Post.

The Lipins, who have had another try for the crown, have given up the words of that "jolly good fellow" song—Devere Republicans.

There is no good reason why ex-king Edward VII should not be succeeded by his daughter, Elisabeth of Bregenz, the daughter of the Portuguese pretender. They are both in the preceding business nowadays.

Harry Purvis, the British cartoonist, says the only persons who are happy in their work are those who are members of the London art colony. The women who are—so two months in jail. Mr. Purvis, it appears, can, on occasions, save a brick himself—New York World.

Pen and Brush.

Once upon a time, the author and artist, John W. Wist, in his grandfather's house, was so fascinated with that when not writing she spends most of her time in the drawing room.

M. L. Léonard, the French artist whose paintings when taught by M. Quittier and signs by him won their new owner hours at a time when the original had to be given up even after it was exhibited, has succeeded in regaining twenty-nine of the pictures.

Miss Elsa K. Schaeffer, who has just turned 21, is a member of the International Union of Fine Arts and Letters, founded by Auguste Rodin, the French sculptor, is a member of Atlanta, Ga. She has won prizes at home and abroad. She is a descendant of Benjamin West.

Town Topics.

A movement has begun in Cincinnati to give every mother $100 per year for the care of her home. The woman who does this—Mrs. Lester Glavin, a neighbor.

According to the census report on metropolitan districts, Cleveland is really the sixth city, with Pittsburgh a close second. Some day, however, it will be sorry for Cleveland—Cleveland Gazette-Times.

Det. Malone police will take drunken men instead of jail. But by the time the police have received a few minutes instruction for their charges it is probable that the escort business will be gauge—Devere Republicans.

Flippant Flings.

Burke has developed a stenographer to his satisfaction, but he believes his codfish cake is a little out of line.—Washington Star.

An effort is being made to establish a new town in the state at that! It's a good a way to kill time as playing roulette.—Cleveland Leader.

A Boston program announced that the city fathers will be the hottest event. It ought to be, look at the ice it's got to melt—Detroit Free Press.

IS NOT YET OVER--

YOUR GRAIN MUST BE MARKETED

You have put money and labor and months of anxiety into the raising of this 1912 crop. You must now sell into the market at the best advantage. You must use up-to-date methods you know of in raising it, and it is now up to you to use the most up-to-date methods in selling it.

No matter how, where or where you sell your crop, the great bulk of it eventually finds its way to the CENTRAL market where the price is regulated by its value on the world's market.

The price on the CENTRAL market less the cost of getting it there, fixes your net price at the farm.

Your problem then is to put Your crop on the Central market at the Smallest Cost.

Freight charges do not vary, but the toll of the middle man does. Elevators and elevator operators cost money, and it takes a large toll to keep them. Truck buyers must live, and they must pay for grain they buy. The toll is a little smaller, but still too large. The Commission firm with no paid agents and only a Central organization doing business by mail can and does handle your grain with the smallest possible toll. The Grain Growers' Grain Co. is more efficient than any other.

There are over 12,000 farmers in the West who have their own Commission firm, the Grain Growers' Grain Co., perfected the best organization in the West for handling grain, and in this space for a while they will tell you facts Why you should ship your grain to

WESTERN CANADA'S DAY

This has been referred to as Canada's Century.

In Western Canada we view such general terms.

This is Western Canada's century, decade, year, month, week, and day. With the passing of each twenty-four hour period, new business blocks and homes are under construction; new lines of railway have pushed on a little further, and each day is brighter than the one preceding.

There is no safer or surer investment today than lands or town lots in a mile or less from the rail and Alberta.

Debate Results In Victory For Laurier Adherents

It's all decided now! Borden must change his naval policy, or suffer the consequences. Do you know why? Because that was the decision reached in the Adamac club debate, Friday evening. There is no alternative for Borden, except to follow the crowd, and get in Laurier's band wagon.

To get back to earth again, F. R. Huff, as chairman, opened the meeting, and in a few minutes oratorical grape vine and shrappen were flying thick and fast. Chas. England opened for the affirmative with a strong speech, and was followed by a forcible argument from Dr. S. F. McEwen. Herber Ketchum spoke next for the affirmative, and then Harry C. Tregellas read an address (from the Toronto Star, eh what?) The inimitable

Harry Johnson then gave a sidesplitting, logical argument. C. H. Wagner, third speaker for the negative, was unable to be present owing to illness, and D. McEwen spoke again in his stead. After the smoke of the rebuttal had cleared away, and the judges (D. Giles, J. W. Blanchard and Frank Steel) had given their decision, it was found that the affirmatives had won unanimously.

Interpreted with the flow of logic were musical numbers. (Mr. and Mrs. Hegy, with mandolins, and Miss Ethel Mason at the piano, furnished several numbers which were heartily applauded. Mrs F. J. Barker and Miss Clara Lockrem gave excellent instrumental selections. A. C. Hughes sang a solo in an accomplished manner.

W. A.

The Womans Auxiliary meeting held last Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. F. J. Barker, took the form of an afternoon, tea and farewell to their President. Mrs. N. Morrill who leaves this week to reside at Redcliff. Mrs. Morrill in tendering her Resignation spoke regretfully of her severance from the local branch and added she will not be with us person will be present in spirit as she will hold the office of Hon. President. Mrs. M. Coffin her successor to the office of President in a few appropriate words voiced the sentiments of the members at her departure, after which Mrs. F. J. Barker, the President and her address which was accompanied by a presentation to Mrs. Morrill of a beautiful bracelet. This bracelet was quite symbolic of the unbroken circle of friendship which we hope will exist between our Hon. Pres. and W. A. members. Mrs. Morrill who was quite taken by surprise replied thanks all for their thoughtfulness in her behalf and said she would always wear the bracelet in remembrance of the Carlstadt branch. The address was signed by the members. We the members of the Carlstadt Womans Auxiliary of the Church of England have heard with deep regret that our bands of friendship will soon be torn asunder by your removal from our midst. Although you and your much respected family have only been residents of this town for a few months, each member will be missed in his or her respective place, and you as President of our W. A., will miss very much indeed and trust and pray that God bless your efforts in your new home at Redcliff, and in behalf of the members of the W. A., will ask you to accept this bracelet as a gift of love from us and hope that you may long be spared to wear it. Signed, The Members of the W. A.

PRairie FIRES MENACE

During the past two weeks there have been two prairie fires in this vicinity, something very unusual at this season of the year. One of the fires was kindled by W. A. German and his nephew in Day - see 21 tip 20, range 8, who were burning a lar-saw to get rid of the mosquitoes. The fire got beyond their control and burned a strip half a mile wide and five miles in length. Through the combined efforts of about two dozen settlers it was extinguished. The second fire occurred about the same date in the south of Suffield. Only by the prompt action of neighbors was the house and out-buildings of Mr. Dutton saved. Settlers are warned that a very heavy penalty is attached under the provisions of the prairie fire ordinance for any one starting a prairie fire and allowing same to get beyond their control.

No Farmer

can afford to seed even a ten acre farm without using a

FANNING MILL

If you are going to select your seed, you will find that the difference in price between a good fanning mill and a poor fanning mill is not near as great as the loss you may have in a poor machine.

The Bull Dog is a wonderful separator and cleaner of grain. You can easily afford to discard your old fanning mill and buy a new Bull Dog. We call it the Bull Dog because it is open for a fight any time against any other fanning mill.
